NEWS IN THE VICINAGE.

Cyrus Wheat, a wealthy citizen of Adair, is dead, aged 72.

The Madison National Bank, of Richmond, reduced its capital stock from $200,000 to $100,000.

Miss Ida Prather, daughter of Ed Prather, of Brassfield, Madison county, while visiting friends in Lexington was attacked with typhoid fever, and before her parents could go to her bedside she was a corpse.

The Kentucky Pipe Line Oil Company was organized at Lexington. The capital stock is $50,000, and Hon. E. D. Sayre, of that city, is treasurer. It will pipe oil from the oil fields of Wayne county to Somerset.

The Boyle county election commissioners organized with J. H. Baughman, chairman, Thos. H. Fox, secretary, and N. K. Tunis, treasurer. The board of trustees of Centre College have employed Mr. O. Winter, of Oakland, O., to succeed Prof. M. D. Flatery as Director of the Boyle-Humphrey Gymnasium.—Advocate.

Capt. S. B. White, 40 years of age, and one of the most prominent business men of Richmond, was found dead in an upstairs room of his residence by his wife, who went to call him to supper. For several days Capt. White had been complaining and that afternoon went out riding with his wife, but soon returned going to his room. Deceased was a prominent trader, politician and Mason, and had an extensive acquaintance in Central Kentucky. He was stamp clerk under Collector Rhodes and for a long time captain of the military company at Richmond. His wife, who is a daughter of Col. Sidney V. Rowland of Danville, and four children survive him and they are bowed down with grief by the shock.

A terrible murder and suicide was committed near Annville, Jackson county. The murderer and suicide was no less a person than Judge Levin P. Johnston, of the Jackson county court. Reports say he went home under the influence of whisky and began to abuse his wife, who was in delicate health, whereupon she left for the home of her mother, some distance away. Johnston picked up his Winchester and followed her, remarking that he would bring her back. He had been gone but a little while, when his gun was heard. Upon investigation Mr. Johnston and his wife were both found dead, she with a bullet hole through her neck, the bullet breaking it, and he with the whole top of his head blown off, his body lying across that of the wife.

CRAB ORCHARD.

Tatum & Collier have sold their mill to Hugh Logan.

The young folks are greatly enjoying the lovely moonlight nights. Horseback rides, hay rides, etc., are the fad here.

Miss Roxie Spangler is just recovering from a severe spell of fever. One of her brothers is also quite ill with the same disease. McClure Napier is improving rapidly. Prof. Elliott began his school at the high school building last Monday. R. H. Bronaugh returned home this week. D. B. Edmiston will be returned to his old place as U. S. gauger here this month. Miss Clara Myers, of Cincinnati, is spending a month with friends here.

Parker Anderson will accompany his brothers to Georgetown College this term as a pupil. Geo. B. Harris was here Sunday with the homefolks. He has charge of A. H. Bastin's store at O. K. Mrs. D. B. Edmiston and daughter, Lillie Paxton, expect to go to Martinsville, Ind., in a few days, the former for the benefit of her health. Her many friends hope to see her return soon entirely well. Mrs. Gus Hofmann has been quite sick for several days.

The protracted meeting conducted by the State Evangelist, Tinsley, in connection with the pastor, Maxey, of the Christian church, closed a very interesting series of spiritual sermons last Sunday night. Rev. Scott Anderson, Baptist, preached an excellent sermon at the same church Saturday night by special invitation of the pastor. There were two confessions, Little Misses Wells and Coffey. Prof. J. S. Stapp and wife and others re-joined during the meeting. Several of the most energetic members of the Baptist church are going to meet at the church next Saturday to have it repaired.

The profit from a single whale that is captured is very large. One about 50 feet long weighs 140,000 pounds, and will give 60,000 pounds of blubber—from which 48,000 pounds of train oil can be made, and 3,000 pounds of whalebone.

Wallace—Then you really do not hate work?

Perry Patette—Uv course, I don't. Work never done me no harm.

There are only 23 persons to the square mile in the United States. England has 370, Belgium 571, Germany 250.

DANVILLE.

Chasse des Fees met at Gilcher Hotel Tuesday afternoon to organize for the winter.

Prof. W. O. Winter, of Oakland, O., has been employed by the board of trustees of Centre college as director of the gymnasium.

Dr. Spurgeon Cheek stopped over a few days as he returned from Cincinnati, having been on board the hospital train to Fort Thomas.

Mr. J. H. Otter sold to Mrs. M. E. Stephens a lot on McGroty Ave., for $450. Mrs. Hays bought a cottage on Broadway from Mr. L. M. Gray for $1,150.

Mrs. Mary Walden's report for the Christian church of this place states that the mission bands and junior C. E. societies have given more to missions than any other in the State during July and August.

Mayor Fisher continues to improve our little city. For sometime the walks and gutters have been filled with weeds and matted grass. He will now have all this removed and the appearance of the city will be greatly improved by it.

Death never crosses a threshold without bringing sorrow and grief, but when he lays his hand on a beloved husband, the intensity of our sorrow is increased and loving hearts are crushed by the sad summons. Our community was much shocked by the sad news of the death of Mr. Steve White, of Richmond, who married Miss Maggie Rowland of our city. He leaves a wife and three beautiful little girls. May the God of all grace sustain and comfort them. Messrs. S. V., W. S. and D. P. Rowland and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rowland attended the funeral Wednesday.

Mr. B. F. Slavin and Mrs. Nannie Jones have gone to Houston, Texas, for a lengthy visit. Mrs. Amanda Woolfork is the guest of her son, H. E. Woolfork. Mr. T. N. Roberts has returned from New York. Mrs. Leonard Tingle is visiting her sisters, the Misses Giovannoli. Miss Eugenia Young has returned from Michigan. Master E. P. Faulconer entertained Tuesday afternoon from four to six in honor of Miss Belle Combs, of Bowling Green. Miss McLoney, of Cynthia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. R. Savage. Miss Mary Bruce, of Sedalia, Mo., who has been spending her vacation with friends in this county, has returned home. Miss Kate Winston, of Washington, D. C. is visiting Miss Alice Barbee. Mr. Morris Farris left Tuesday night for New Mexico and other points. We hope that the change of climate will soon restore him to health. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Roberts have returned from Nashville. Mr. Roberts is improving slowly. Miss Bell, of Louisville, is the guest of Mrs. John Quisenberry. Miss May Wood has returned to Cincinnati after a pleasant visit to Miss Zilpha Smith. Miss Lettie Green entertains to-day from 4 to 6 in honor of Miss Johnson, of Maysville.

The republican convention of the eighth district was called to order by W. J. Wilmore, of Jessamine, and Dr. Worrall opened with prayer. Mr. J. W. Yerkes, of Boyle, and C. C. Wallace, of Madison, had been previously recommended as temporary chairman and secretary, respectively. Mr. Yerkes made an excellent speech, touched upon the recent democratic convention and the tariff question and complimented the administrations of both McKinley and Bradley and favored the annexation of the Philippines.

After the opening address the committee on resolutions was appointed as follows: Anderson Ed. W. Draffin, Boyle J. A. Cheek, Garrard Gen. Collier, Lincoln Ben. B. King, Jessamine S. M. Anderson, Madison T. S. Burnham, Mercer Thos. Hardin, Rockcastle G. S. Griffin, Spencer Col. John Speed, Shelby Capt. Thos. Todd, Mr. Morris, of Jackson, was also put on this committee. Convention adjourned until 1:30. At the afternoon session Judge Harrison, of Shelby, moved that the temporary organization be made permanent. Motion carried. The report of the committee on resolutions was read by Mr. J. A. Cheek. They denounced the Geobel bill and the gerrymander of the district; commended the administration of Gov. Bradley and President McKinley, believed "that no Spanish territory which has for a single day enjoyed the protection of the American flag and which has been conquered by the courage of American soldiers and sailors should be surrendered back to Spain;" reaffirmed the St. Louis platform, especially as to sound money and against the free coinage of silver and urged a prompt modification or total repeal of the Civil Service Law as now enforced. Mr. T. M. Cardwell, of Mercer, moved to amend the resolutions by striking out "prompt modification" and making the sixth clause read "we urge a total repeal." Col. Speed took the chair and Mr. Yerkes spoke against the amendment. After some discussion the vote was taken by counties. All counties voted no, except Mercer. 16 yes, 2 no, Madison 30 no, 1 yes. Mr. Parrish, of Madison, moved to adopt the resolution as read. Motion carried. Mr. W. H. Harrison, city Judge of Shelbyville, in a few words nominated G. M. Davison. Mr. Miles, of Jessamine, withdrew his name and moved to make the nomination unanimous. Motion carried. Mr. Bright Ferrill spoke in behalf of Lincoln county and Mr. Davison, thanking the convention for the honor paid him, G. W. Gentry, of Lincoln, was also called upon and responded with a stirring speech. The convention then adjourned.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Judge Chas. A. Richie, of Louisville, formerly a leading republican, announces that he will support Oscar Turner for Congress.

John Rhea, satisfied that he has things all right in the 3d, has gone East to make speeches. He will appear at Wilmington, Del., Sept. 3.

The democratic congressional convention of the Fifth district nominated Oscar Turner for congress, reaffirmed the Chicago platform of 1896 and endorsed Bryan for president in 1900.

The new election law will be tested in mandamus suit filed against Auditor Stone to compel payment of the expenses incurred by the election commissioners. The case will be heard at the September term of the Franklin circuit court.

In a private letter to the Richmond Pantagraph, Judge Davison says he will open his campaign about the 25th of September and expects to make a winning fight. For "winning fight" read "still hunt." That's always the game of the g. r.

W. T. Fowler in an interview at Hopkinsville said: "I am the regular nominee for Congress of the Second district republicans and shall run to the end. I shall go on the stump at once. I received 122 votes when it required only 88 to elect. I do not believe Mr. Jolly will make an independent race."

A Frankfort dispatch says that the defeat of Hon. C. W. Lester in the race for the republican nomination for Appellate Judge in the Third district because of his friendship for Gov. Bradley is still the principal theme of discussion among his friends there, and they are not looking with a kindly eye upon the man who caused it.

A dispatch from Richmond says: In response to the wishes of many friends Hon. John B. Chenault has announced himself a democratic candidate for Auditor of the State. He is an original free silver man, former chairman of the democratic county committee, Vice President of the State Bank & Trust Company and belongs to one of the most prominent families in Kentucky.

PATRICIDE IN CASEY.

V. R. Coleman writes that he tried to telephone this killing Monday, but could not get connection.

Sunday afternoon about 4:30 at Mt. Olive, Perry Cox shot and instantly killed his father, James Cox. Bad feelings had existed between them for several years and the killing was not a surprise to the people in that section. James Cox had sold his farm on which he was living when killed, but was soon to move. On Sunday Perry was passing through the yard, when the old man caught sight of him and went for his gun. Perry dodged behind the corner of the house and the old man fired both barrels of buckshot at the corner where Perry stood. After the two shots were fired, Perry stepped out and fired two balls from a 44 Colt's revolver, both taking effect, the last one near the heart. After committing the deed Perry retraced his steps and had to pass by the lifeless form of his father in order to get out of the yard. Going home he remained there until Monday, when he went to Liberty and gave himself up to the authorities. The remains were interred at Bethel Ridge Monday in the presence of a large crowd. Many threats are said to have been made on both sides previous to the killing and many things may develop at the trial.

Andrew F. Steele was killed by Councilman Merritt J. Hughes at Versailles, due to bad feeling growing out of a last year's municipal campaign.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Johnson Bros' meeting at Pellyton, Adair county, closed with 46 conversions.

Wm. Robinson, aged 16, and Miss Willie Harris, 15, were married at Cadiz.

Mahala Mullins, the Tennessee moonshiner, with her 590 pounds, has again become a wife.

Gilbert Sayler and Miss Eliza Turner, both of the East End, were married at Squire W. D. Wailin's by that gentleman yesterday.

In the United States bachelors outnumber the spinsters by over 2,000,000. In Kentucky there are 128,188 bachelors and but 84,764 maidens.

Rev. W. L. Hayden, of Edinburg, Penn., and Mrs. James Hayden, of Bowling Green, were married Tuesday. They had never met each other until three days before.

Jeremiah Powers cut Bert Davis to death at Wakarusa, Ind., in a fight over an engagement with Miss Mabel Patton, who witnessed the trouble. Powers was also badly cut.

The engagement of Miss Katherine Helm, of Louisville, daughter of James P. Helm, attorney for the L. & N. railroad, to Dr. Samuel Hamilton Hailey, of Lexington, is announced. The date of the wedding is November 16.

Gen. Cassius Marcellus Clay who became conspicuous again some months ago by his child wife, formerly Dora Richardson, refusing to live with him, has filed a suit for divorce in Madison circuit court. The place he gave her in Woodford is to be part of the alimony.

George Arnold and Allie Lankford were to have been married at Lanius, Texas, Tuesday. Mr. Arnold was taken sick Friday. He grew critically ill and sent for Miss Lankford to come to his bedside, and she hastened away from her home in a carriage. The horse ran away and Miss Lankford was killed. At almost the same moment Arnold died, and neither of the betrothed knew of the death of the other. The young couple were buried side by side, next day in the little village churchyard at Lanius.

MIDDLEBURG.

John Swope gave a watermelon party at Alex Hicks' Saturday night.

As Jason Wesley was alighting from the hack his foot slipped and he fell against the platform in front of the postoffice, and hurt his hip pretty seriously. His school is dismissed in consequence of the accident.

There is great dissatisfaction among those who attended the Russell Springs fair. The managers seems to have gone into it to make money and if they did not succeed it was not because they paid any out. Several rings advertised were called in and they refused to pay full premiums in others. The hotels and boarding houses were not equal to the crowds present each day and many from quite a distance had to return to their homes at night. Whisky is said to have flowed freely and it was much more easily to obtain a drink of it than a drink of water. It required 12 or 15 policemen with double-barreled shotguns to keep order during the day, and nights were made hideous by pistol shots and yells of drunken men.

CARSON.—The McMinnville, Tenn., New Era, says of Mr. D. B. Carson, who has recently been promoted to freight agent of the Western & Atlantic, one of the most important places on the road: "This community loses one of its most enterprising and progressive citizens, while Atlanta gains a citizen who will be of value to its commercial and industrial interests. Mr. Carson has been the agent of the N. C. & St. L. railway at this point since 1882, and has been regarded as one of the most capable men in the employ of the road. He has served this city as mayor, and it was during his incumbency that electric lights were provided for our thoroughfares and other needed improvements made. His wife and daughter will soon join him in Atlanta, where they will take up their future residence, much to the regret of the select society of our own little city."

Gov. Claude Matthews, who was stricken with paralysis and died Sunday, was born in Bath county, Ky., December 14, 1845. He left in 1868 and settled in Vermillion county, Indiana, where he had a farm of 2,000 acres. He served a term in the Legislature in 1876. In 1890 he was nominated and elected Secretary of State and in 1892 was chosen Governor. He was a son of the late Thos. Matthews, the traveling salesman, by his first wife.

Some idea of the size of Alaska may be formed when it is known that it contains an area of 577,390 square miles. This is more than twice the area of Texas. Twelve States the size of Pennsylvania could be carved out of the Territory of Alaska, with enough left over to make a State like South Carolina.

Democratic Nominee For Congress.

HON. G. G. GILBERT,
Of Shelby County.

THE Courier-Journal says that between Turner, with whom it differs only on the fiscal question and agrees on all others and Mr. Evans with whom it agrees on the money question and differs with on all others, it will vote for Turner, though it admits that it is no festival of its. Continuing the paper says: "If Mr. Turner is elected those who have put him in nomination shall have all the honors. We shall burn no bonfires either in his or our own glorification. Neither is it our funeral. If he is defeated, we shall not put on any mourning. We simply choose between a partly objectionable democrat and a wholly objectionable republican, and advise our readers to follow our example." In other words the C.-J. is willing "to compromise with dishonor," but to do so in a way that when it does take the medicine, it shall be with as many grimaces as possible. Such support by the paper of so "great influence" is not creditable to it. It should have swallowed the dose like a man or refused to take it at all. The Lord loves the democratic party and shows it by chastening it, but this kind of chastisement is a little too much for it, hey Mr. Watterson?

WITH a notoriously incompetent secretary of war, conniving with a subordinate to undermine the commanding general, with ignorance and stupidity in the saddle and the devil taking care of the hindmost, it is passing strange that the "republican war" came to such successful issue. That our cause was just and God Almighty on our side can only explain it. The "jack rabbit" administration, as Mr. Watterson calls McKinley's, main strength and awkward direction of affairs, is entitled to no credit whatever. Competent men, and not those put forward solely for political purposes, could have ended the war in half the time and without the horrors that grow and thicken, even after hostilities are suspended. If such a mismanagement of affairs all around entitles the administration to praise, it is welcome to all it can get out of it. Nobody should object to its being called a "republican war" for it was a series of blunders from start to finish, which must react on the party which claims all the honors.

CONGRESSMAN PUGH says that the republicans discussed a plan to contest all the congressional elections this fall on account of the alleged unconstitutionality of the Goebel election law and another to hold an election in one county in each district under the old law and then claim that this county was the only one that had voted legally, but as he has heard nothing further from it he thinks it has been abandoned. It had better be. The people know that a republican congress would not hesitate to do any rascally thing, but there are points beyond which it dare not go and this is one of them.

OLD Gen. Boynton seems to be somewhat of a liar himself. Sent by the war department to report on the conditions at Camp Thomas, he has discovered that everything is lovely and that there was no negligence on the part of the surgeons or other officials. He reports that supplies were abundant, of good quality and that the sanitation was all that could be desired. His statements are in direct conflict with that of every soldier and shows that he is either too old to see or too big a fool to realize the enormities that have been practiced there by incompetents and negligents.

THERE are two republican nominees for congress in the 2d district, when neither stands as much show for election as an icicle does to retain its shape in hades. The Jolly crowd nominated him and the Fowler set declared him the nominee, and there you are. Such disgraceful scenes were never before enacted in a convention hall, there being knock downs and drag outs right in the midst of the proceedings. The factions want to control the Federal patronage and that is why they are fighting. It is not at all with the idea that either can be elected to congress.

It is openly charged that Secretary Alger suppressed an order by President McKinley to Gen. Miles. This is an act of treason, which will doubtless be the subject of investigation along with Alger's many other shortcomings, long before Gen. Miles is punished by court martial for "unmilitary language."

THE Courier-Journal makes fun of the Danville convention for endorsing the St. Louis platform and then denouncing one of its principal plank—civil service reform. It's no use however. The little matter of inconsistency never counts with the republicans.

SURGEON DADE, of the 2d Kentucky, is coming in for a large share of the blame for the condition of the soldiers at Chickamauga, and from all that we can learn he deserves it. Dade had been a penitentiary doctor and carried his treatment of convicts into the camp. Free men, whose only offense is that they answered to their country's call in time of danger, did not take to his cruel methods. From what we can gather he had better make himself scarce after the soldiers are mustered out or he may never have a chance to practice any more cruelties.

IT turns out that a court martial did not send the scoundrelly Kansas ghoul to the penitentiary as stated, for robbing the grave of a Confederate officer at Bull Run, but merely deprived him of rank for two months, to be confined to regimental camp, forfeit half his pay for the same length of time, and that he be reprimanded by the commanding general. The Virginia authorities disgusted at such a finding have had the captain arrested and what they will do for him will be a plenty.

GOV. BRADLEY'S action in having the sick brought from Chickamauga is to be highly commended. The poor boys have suffered enough from incompetents.

WAR ECHOES.

Gen. Weyler has announced that he will enter Spanish politics.

Among the soldiers at Lexington there were 143 typhoid fever cases Tuesday.

In Cuba there is no further complaint from Spaniards of trouble with the insurgents.

When Admiral Cervera returns to Spain he will be met at Southampton by a Spanish fleet.

Gen. Wheeler has received peremptory orders to have the Rough Riders mustered out at once.

The Fourth Kentucky has been assigned to the Third Brigade, Third Division, First Army Corps.

A Pennsylvania concern is still running night and day manufacturing projectiles for the army and navy.

Gen. Merritt has left Manila ostensibly for Paris, but the real objective point is the United States. He is shortly to wed a Chicago girl, 40 years his junior.

The hospital-ship Olivette sank mysteriously at Fernandina, Fla., while anchored off quarantine. The Hospital Corps of 35 and crew of 45 escaped in scanty attire.

Within a day or two hospital trains, furnished by the State, will be on their way to Chickamauga and to Fort Monroe to bring home the Kentucky soldiers who are sick at those places.

B. V. Brooks, of Springfield, a private in Company K, 1st regiment, was drowned Saturday while crossing a ford near Ponce, Porto Rico. Two natives who tried to save him were also drowned.

The war department issued orders mustering out nine regiments, embracing 11,221 officers and men. Of these regiments there are two now encamped near Lexington. They are the 1st and 5th Illinois.

Fourteen of the soldiers on the Allegheny died on the way from Santiago to Montauk Point and were buried at sea. The inspecting officers say the Allegheny is a cattle ship and not fit even for well troops.

Soldiers arriving at Lexington from Chickamauga tell horror stories of the hospital system and say plans are forming for lynching a brutal surgeon of the Second Kentucky when the regiment is mustered out.

Gen. Merritt granted Aguinaldo's request that he be permitted to send a representative to Paris to be present during the meeting of the Peace Commissioners, and he selected Col. Agoncillo, one of his personal friends.

John H. Meek, of Fremont, O., father of the first American-born sailor killed in the Spanish-American war, has received a check for $100 from a grateful Cuban, sent with great formality through the Cuban junta.

Admiral Cervera and the other Spanish naval officers at Annapolis have been informed that they are no longer prisoners of the United States. The prisoners at Portsmouth, captured from Cervera's fleet, are also released.

The Eastern Kentucky Cavalry are again on native soil and will remain at Lexington until mustered out of service. Troops A and B were mustered into service last May and have been part of Grigsby's Rough Riders encamped at Camp Thomas, Chickamauga Park, all summer.

Gov. Bradley is making strong efforts to get the Kentucky sick from Chickamauga. He has wired Secretary Alger offering to equip special trains if leave is granted him to bring the sick home. The State has no funds for such purpose, but the Governor will borrow to meet the expense.

The Kansas City Star's Porto Rican correspondent furnishes copies of official dispatches that, while Secretary Alger in official dispatches recognized Miles' authority as the senior in command during his residence at Santiago, he at the same time sent to Gen. Shafter a dispatch, also official, but concealed from Gen. Miles' knowledge at the time, telling Shafter that it was not intended that Miles should in any way supersede him. The Star's correspondent also states that the recent interview with Gen. Miles was obtained with the general's knowledge of the fact that it was for publication.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

Ed Irving, aged 13, was given a year for housebreaking at Owensboro.

Ira Grissim shot and killed Sam McKinney, his father-in-law, near Nashville.

John Owens, an Adair county Negro, is said to have four living wives and 23 children.

Joe Kaiser, of Lexington, was run over by a dummy car at Petoskey, Mich., and had his head cut off.

It cost $1,331,750.96 to run the city government of Louisville during the fiscal year which ended Aug. 31.

Alex Young shot Tom Warren, also colored, to death in Lexington because the latter abused the former's sister.

Hemorrhages set in just after M. Ernstorf, of Boone, Ia., had had 11 teeth pulled and he died in a few hours.

The Frankfort city council has changed the name of South Main to Dewey street, in honor of the admiral.

The Auburn tannery has received an order from a Memphis firm for 216,000 hame strings. It will take 400 hides to make them.

At Sparta, William Turley shot and killed his father, Amos Turley, who was drinking and had threatened to whip his wife.

Statistics show that women commit less than 4 per cent of the crimes. In the United States they commit less than one-tenth.

James Dudley is suing Charles Wiegand at Crawfordsville, Ind., for causing him to break an arm as the result of a practical joke.

Circuit Judge Valliant, of St. Louis, decides that a boycott is legal so long as no force or intimidation is resorted to by the boycotters.

The colored Baptist church at Bowling Green was almost completely burned, causing a loss of $10,000 with but $4,000 insurance.

Frank Wiley, of Warren county, dreamed his house was afire and jumped out of a two-story window, breaking both legs and an arm.

For three years James McClellan, insane, has been chained to a stake, at Terra Haute, Ind., to prevent him from butting his brains out.

Dr. J. M. Frost has declined the presidency of Georgetown College, and Prof. Arthur Yeager will perform the duties till another election.

Wilhelmina Helene Pauline Maria of Orange was 18 years old Wednesday and issued a proclamation assuming the crown of the Netherlands.

Edward Burgess died at Georgetown, aged 82 years. He was the father of 18 children, 10 of whom survive him. Six of his sons acted as pallbearers.

William Smith, of Knoxville, serving a 10-day sentence for carrying concealed weapons at Paducah, was killed by being crushed between a revolving cell.

David Stevens, a prominent farmer living near Sturgis, suicided by hanging with a plow line. He was 60-odd and family worry is said to have caused him to take his life.

Paris is shocked over the action of Lt. Col. Henry. He confessed that he forged the letter that sent Dreyfus to a living death and then completed his disgrace by killing himself.

Mary Anderson, a Negroess of 45, has brought suit against John Graham, a wealthy, white bachelor living near Indianapolis, Ind., for $5,000 because he hugged and kissed her.

The Phillips-Buttorff Manufacturing Co.'s building, at Nashville, and several adjoining, burned, causing a loss of $500,000. The American National Bank building was considerably damaged.

At Anderson, Ind., John and Richard McGuff, twins, Tuesday celebrated their 94th birthday. They were born in what is now Darke county. Richard is now very feeble, and for that reason the day was very quietly spent.

The date of the dedication of the monument to be erected over Kentucky's Federal and Confederate dead in Chickamauga Park has been postponed, as Sculptor Muldoon will not have the monument in readiness by that time.

At New Tazewell, Tenn., Deputy Sheriff Nat Cloud and John Cadle, a bystander, were shot and killed by Ben Johnson and Charles Burch, railroad section hands. And near there Walter Burrows, a jealous husband, killed his wife and committed suicide.

Maj. J. M. Walsh, ex-commissioner of the Yukon district, who has arrived from Dawson en route to Ottawa, Canada, to make his official report, estimates this season's gold output at $11,000,000, while the clean-up for next year will undoubtedly aggregate $20,000,000.

Savannah presents a terrible appearance after the big storm. Roofs of houses are scattered in the streets, and in the public squares wires of the telephone, telegraph, electric light and street-car systems make the streets impassable for vehicles. The loss to property-owners will be fully $100,000. It may be more. The crops adjacent to the city are badly damaged.

CHARLES TRUB, of the Ottenheim section, has put in a new shingle mill, which turns out 10,000 a day.

HUSBLE.

S. Dunbar bought 20 acres of growing corn of John Baughman at $7.50 per acre in the field. Mrs. Eliza Harris sold some old corn to Gentry Bros. at $1.50 per barrel.

Ed Whites and wife have returned from a visit to Jessamine county. Eld. J. K. Reed, of Florida, is visiting old friends in this community, and preaching at night in the Christian church.

Mrs. John Spoonamore, aged about 40 years, died at her home Wednesday night at 10 o'clock, of typhoid fever. She was only sick a few days, but owing to much other trouble, the tide was too great for her to pass over. She leaves a husband and five children to mourn her departure. She was a member of the Baptist church, and after a brief funeral service, conducted by J. K. Reed, her remains were interred in the family burying ground near the residence at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The military spirit displays itself in many odd and comical forms nowadays. Margherite A. Hamm, in the New York Mail and Express, tells of one of them: "An enterprising confectioner makes 'quick-firing' shells out of chocolate coated with silver foil. They are quick-firing because a person can eat a dozen a minute. The chocolate bombshells or chocolate Deweys, as poetic young women call them are larger globes of chocolate coated with silver foil and with a little piece of candy at the end to represent a fuse. Equally amusing is a smelling salts holder which looks for all the world like a Martini-Henry cartridge handsomely polished, while the section of a Lee-Metford cartridge is mounted for a scarf pin, stick pin or hat pin."

This war promises to hold the premium for daring exploits. Ensign Caldwell, of Admiral Dewey's fleet, was to take a steam launch up a river emptying into Manila bay, and in the darkness of night affix a torpedo to Spanish torpedo boats secreted there and leave the rest to a kind Providence. But the Spaniards suspected such an attempt and sank a ship across the river's mouth, bottling up their torpedo boats and preventing an attack. Caldwell had the spirit of Hobson, or of Cushing when he made his dash upon the Albatross. And the American navy is full of such men, waiting for their opportunities.

A woman residing near Springtown, Bucks county, Pa., has a mammoth rooster which has become a great pet. The fowl is so big that he can stand on the floor and pick crumbs off the table, and he usually dines with his mistress. Last evening she took from him some article he had picked off the table and he resented the act by attacking her. The rooster pecked the woman's face and hands and discolored both her eyes by the terrific blows of his wings.

A barn in a Maine town bears upon its walls an advertisement that arouses considerable curiosity and leaves no doubt in the minds of those who read it that the man who does the advertising is a jack of all trades. Here is what he agrees to do: Job printing, signs lettered, hammocks repaired, hammocks manufactured, ornamental painting, harnesses polished, furniture painted, wagons painted, carpets dusted, banjo tuition.

The reported advancement of the sons of influential politicians over the heads of young men educated for warfare has caused much dissatisfaction. A satirist thus expresses his views on the subject: "Sons of great men all remind us we may make our lives sublime, and with papa's push behind us we can get there every time."

Among the certificates which are taxable are those attached to marriage licenses, such as are issued in Maryland. There are two certificates attached to each license, one to be returned by the clergyman to the court issuing the license, and the other to be given to the persons married. On such certificate the tax is ten cents.

The navy department is evidently determined that the Maine shall always be remembered. The three big battleships lately authorized by congress are to be named the Maine, the Ohio and the Missouri.

Horses in Demand.
That horses are once more in demand, and at good prices, is a matter of rejoicing among owners and dealers. There was a popular verdict that these animals were being crowded out by electricity and many breeders accepted it as final; but the war changed all this and horses suitable for cavalry or artillery service have quickly doubled in value. Prior to our active troubles with Spain, says the Detroit Free Press, the government bought few horses, except to supply losses, and had them furnished by contractors. Now the demand is large and imperative, the result being that government agents are sent direct into the open market. Less than three months ago the price paid was from $60 to $70 and now it ranges from $120 to $150. One thing developed through the changed situation is the fact that the large substitution of electricity for horse power had greatly decreased the number of horses fit for army uses. This made it necessary to lower the standard of excellence before insisted upon and now the agents are authorized to purchase any sound horse between five and eight years old, and standing from 15 1/4 to 15 3/4 hands in height. Color has ceased to be considered at all, and yet, with all these concessions, it is difficult to meet the demand. One thing the government will not have is a horse that has been docked, so that those who have shortened the tails of their horses in order to sell them in a fashionable market must still depend upon the customers to be found there and can profit little from the advance in prices induced by the war. The army horse requires a tail that can be used just as nature intended, and those who have been so foolish as to deprive the noble animal of this protection will not be over-burdened with sympathy because they cannot profit now as do more considerate owners who have horses that meet the requirements of the government. If the war does away with this silly and cruel practice the horses that fall in battle will not have died in vain.

The faculty of keeping one's head in an emergency is not too common. A young Philadelphia elocutionist has it to perfection, says the Record of that city, and a few days ago it neatly saved her from an embarrassing situation. She was reciting professionally, and her work had called forth wild applause. She was warm and tired, however, and when just a few lines into an encore number, she knew that a certain place her memory would fail her, and that she would stumble and fall. Her wits answered quickly. Before coming to the breaking point, she suddenly stopped and addressed her auditors: "I see by your faces that many of you have heard this piece before. I do not like to repeat, so, with your permission, I will try another number." Some magnanimous persons answered: "No, no. Go ahead." But the young lady was obdurate, and the people of that audience now consider her the queen of all elocutionists."

The largest scientific globe ever made has just been completed at Lincoln, Ill., by George Christian Schreiber. Mr. Schreiber began work on January 5, 1896. On March 31, 1898, the globe was finished. He had bought maps and atlases to the cost of $800. He worked in all 8,500 hours. The result of his patient expenditure of time, money, learning and skill is the most exact, most comprehensive globe ever made. It is 15 feet in circumference at the equator. It is 39 inches in diameter. The foundation is an iron frame spun over with telegraph wire. This, in turn, is covered with cotton bating soaked in glue. Above this is a paste of sawdust and varnish half an inch thick, and the whole is painted over many times.

This is a talkative age, and we are a talkative people; but we get many reminders that quality outranks quantity. Ten men speak volubly in advocacy of a proposition; then one man, who knows more about the matter than all the ten, utters a few reasonable words in good temper, and carries the meeting with him. Fair-minded judges say: "The others had the weight of the argument." Moral: Be master of the subject, and you will be master of the audience.

One of the most admirable features of this war is the generous approbation by all of the bravery of each. Every commodore has boasted of Dewey, and every man in the navy has praised Bagley and Hobson. The choicest words have been spoken by those who, acquainted with the dangers, knew how to estimate the mettle that defied danger. There has been no envy, except that high sort which seeks opportunity for imitation.

It is reported that "Admiral Dewey has been elected an honorary member of the Dorcas society and Bible class of the Shiloh Sunday school of Fair Oaks, Ind." This is a graceful recognition of his heroic efforts in behalf of a quiet Sabbath at Manila on May 1. The Spaniards were making considerable noise with their batteries, but he compelled them to quit.

"Not a man flinched," says Col. Roosevelt in speaking of the fight at La Quasina. Yet two months ago these heroic soldiers were private citizens. The history of the American volunteer is that he always rises to the occasion.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - SEPT. 2, 1898

W. P. WALTON.

War Signals for Farmers.

If plans under consideration are perfected the trains of the great railroads of the United States will become disseminators of war news, bearing at fastest speed news of American victories or defeats. The plan was hatched several days ago, and already many of the largest railroads have agreed to take part in it. It is proposed to carry the news to the country districts by means of flags flying from trains. For this purpose various pieces of bunting will be provided the train crews and instructions as to the proper means of displaying them will be issued to all agents and dispatchers. Codes explaining the signal system will be distributed by each road to the districts through which it passes, in order that the people may be able to read the messages. It is contemplated to give only the meager information of a victory for American or Spanish arms, though the signals will show whether the victory is on land or sea. A United States flag will mean a victory for American land forces. A United States flag with a blue pennant above will show a victory for the American navy. The Rock Island, Burlington, Northwestern, Illinois Central and Baltimore & Ohio roads have adopted this scheme.

The New York Herald having observed that a Spanish lieutenant captured in the Philippines is named Farragut, is reminded that David Glasgow Farragut, who served under James I. hero, was descended from Don Pedro Farragut, who served under James I., king of Aragon. Jorge Farragut, a Spaniard born in Minorca, emigrated to America in 1776 and fought on the revolutionary side in the war for independence. His son, born in Knoxville, Tenn., was the hero of Mobile bay. This is a trifle startling to those of us who were ignorant of Admiral Farragut's lineage. It is also a most curious fact that so great a seaman as the naval genius of our civil war should have had in so large a degree the blood of a race whose prestige on the sea had sunk to the lowest terms.

Mrs. Stanley N. Coulter, an American lady who has been in Paris for some time, recently left her hotel in that city, wearing a small American flag. The emblem was no sooner noticed than a hooting, jeering crowd of men and boys followed her. As soon as the reason for their taunts was understood, Mrs. Coulter returned to her temporary home, not, however, to remove the flag, but to fasten its mate upon the other side of her dress. Venturing forth again, she caused even greater displeasure than before, and the wrath of the French crowd eventually manifested itself in sticks and stones being thrown at her. Mrs. Coulter was rescued by a gendarme before any serious injury was done.

During our civil war the United States sanitary commission expended about $21,000,000 for the relief of sick and wounded federal soldiers. The Red Cross society is said to have expended in the Russo-Turkish war $17,000,000 and in the Franco-Prussian war $13,000,000. These figures make a powerful appeal to the imagination, if one stops to reflect on the conditions which call for such gigantic outlays; and they also illustrate the demand which modern warfare makes upon humanity's sympathetic nerve.

In the "rules for long lasting" given to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch by a number of oenogenarians of that city seven of the nine include marriage—two with the prefix "happy." Nearly all mention temperate living, plain food, outdoor exercise and regular habits. One veteran wisely says: "Care of health in youth." It is pretty hard to mend a cracked constitution. It is certain that heredity has much to do with long life, therefore the old rule to "make a wise choice of your ancestors."

The last vestige of discrimination against those who participated on the side of the south in the civil war has been removed by the enactment by congress and the approval by the president of a bill which declares that the "disabilities imposed by section 3, fourteenth amendment of the constitution, heretofore incurred, are hereby removed." They have been practically removed for several years.

The man who is to raise the Cuban flag over Havana, after the stars and stripes have been sent aloft over Morro castle, has already been selected. It is Juan Arnao who is to be thus honored. He is a Cuban patriot, 90 years of age, whose one desire is to live long enough to send up the Cuban flag over Havana. He has fought 55 years for Cuba's freedom.

There is a story going the rounds in England that when Gladstone once attended a service in a church in Scotland he was disgusted, during prayer, to hear the minister say: "We pray Thee, Lord, to bless the prime minister of this great nation, who is now worshipping under this roof in the third pew from the pulpit."

The American Volunteer.

No one in this country has had any doubt of the unflinching courage of the "raw recruits" that make up a very large majority of the soldiers in the United States armies. The foreign officers who are in this country have all spoken of the stalwart appearance of the volunteers as they have been formed into camps at the various places of rendezvous, but they have all referred to the fact that their deficiency in drill made them somewhat of an unknown quantity when it came to the test of active warfare. While it is not strange, says the Chicago Record, that officers who cannot understand how a citizen may be transformed into a capable soldier without several years of discipline and drilling should fail to comprehend how a man may be changed from a fashionable club member or a "cowboy" to a thoroughly competent trooper in less than a month of time, the battle near Juragua recently will show them that such a thing is possible, even if it is in violation of all the European rules and practices of war. No body of men in any army ever fought better or more determinedly than the "rough riders" in their first engagement. It is an axiom in war that nothing is so destructive of discipline as an ambushade, and yet Wood and Roosevelt led their men through such a trap and won a victory against a superior force with a gallantry equal to that displayed by the best-trained regulars in any army the world ever saw. No charge made by the British regulars in the late Indian war—and there were many of them that showed marvelous courage and determination—was more gallant than that made by these men in fighting their way out of the ambushade into which they had marched. The reports say "not a man flinched," and Col. Wood's command to his men, who went into the fight cursing the Spaniards, "Don't swear, but fight," was an order that showed both character and determination of the brave leader. While the United States navy has won the admiration of the world, such conduct as that shown by Col. Wood's "raw recruits" will compel the respect of everyone who has any appreciation of the manly qualities that are necessary to make a perfect soldier.

Kentucky's rural attorneys never overlook a chance to turn railroad accidents into coin of the realm. Not long ago, Thomas H. Johnson, an employee of the Illinois Central railroad, was killed while leaning out from the top of a car. Before the widow even knew all the particulars of his death, letters were showered in upon her by lawyers along the line of the road. In due time the coffin bearing the remains of the unfortunate man reached the mourning widow. It was opened, and to the coat sleeves of the dead man's grave clothes was pinned a note, written by a lawyer near the scene of the accident, offering to prosecute the road for a percentage of the damages.

"After-care" is a phrase which came into use at the last international conference of charities. It was used to express the need of following up with due attention a class of persons discharged as "cured" from the hospitals for the insane, but whose mental soundness is not firmly established, so that there is still danger of relapse. As a similar need exists in the case of many convalescents, reformed persons, discharged prisoners, religious converts and growing children, we are likely to find this phrase "after-care" very convenient as well as suggestive.

The whisky biscuit is reported to be demoralizing the youth of New York. It contains a somewhat larger dash of liquor than the candies into which intoxicating fluids are sometimes introduced in other parts of the country, and it appears to be correspondingly more exhilarating. The police have pounced down upon the whisky biscuit, which would seem to show that more or less danger lurks in this edible.

Colorado Springs is said to be the quietest town in the country. No church bells are rung there, and no whistles are blown. A local paper admits that dogs bark every night in Colorado Springs, as they do everywhere else, but it adds that "when they run about they make no noise with their feet in the sandy soil."

Clothes are put on ice now during the summer months, men's garments and women's alike. It is not meant, of course, that suits and dresses are literally laid upon blocks of ice, there to congeal rapidly, but that clothes are actually placed in the coldest of storage in the heated term.

A medical authority says: "The lungs of people who have lived in the city are not like the lungs of country people when both are brought to the dissecting table. The citizen's lungs are always very dark, sometimes even black, from smoke and dust inhaled."

The "curfew" idea is said to be getting very popular in Kansas towns, and, where tried, to have been effective of good results in control of the young.

The tallest soldier in the army is said to be Private Henry Jackson, of company K, Second New Jersey regiment, who is 6 feet 6 1/2 inches in height.

SALUTING IN THE ARMY.

A Thing Which Volunteers Never Learn How to Do as the Regulars Do It.

One thing which the volunteers find it hard to do—a thing which perhaps they will never do in anything like the form in which the regulars do it—is to salute officers. Take a volunteer who is bronzed and big like a regular, and put him in a regular's clothes and send him out on the street, and he would certainly betray himself as a volunteer at his first meeting with an officer. The regular, walking on the street, salutes every officer he meets by raising the straightened fingers of his right hand to the brim of his hat, just over the right eye, and keeping them there until the officer has passed. The volunteer cannot be made to hold his hand there in any such way, says the Boston Transcript.

If he salutes a strange officer of low rank at all, he salutes him with the quick dash which is the regular officer's salute to the private. If the regular soldier is seated when an officer approaches in camp, on the street or anywhere else, he rises, faces the officer, stands very erect, and makes this salute. No one ever sees a volunteer private do this. A regular cavalryman trying to get his horse across the bridge while an electric car was crossing it from the other direction. The horse was plunging and leaping wildly, and the soldier had to work hard to control him. At this moment a young second lieutenant of Ohio volunteers came along the footway. In the midst of his horse's gyrations the mounted regular managed to salute the pedestrian officer in proper form. The smile of admiration and satisfaction on that young officer's face was worth going a long way to see.

SAILOR HATS TRYING.

The Low-Crowned, Narrow-Brimmed Ones Worn This Year Are Unbecoming.

The low-crowned, narrow-brimmed straw sailor of the season is going to rob the summer girl of much of her beauty, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. Several dozen women of all degrees of good looks fitted sailor hats on at one of the big shops and gazed disapprovingly in the mirror at themselves. There were all sorts of sailor hats on the tables and counters, low-crowned, narrow-brimmed ones of coarse straw, higher crowned, broader brimmed ones of fine straw, and various versions of each variety. The saleswoman declared that they were all this year's model. The customers murmured that only the low-crowned, broad-brimmed hats were new. Then they continued sitting on and frowning at themselves and smiling derisively at each other.

"I never saw such a fright," said one young woman, as she resumed her own flowery hat after vainly searching for a becoming sailor among the low-crowned, coarse affairs. "I shall hunt up my last year's hat and wear that. It is pretty and makes me look well, anyway."

"But these are considered very stylish," said the saleswoman, placing a little hat on her own head, where it looked about the size of a postage stamp. "They are made like boys' hats, and boys' hats and shoes and collars are the models for the best styles this season, you know."

DONE WITH A RIFLE.

The Head of an Indian Shot Out with One Hundred and Fifty-Two Bullets.

Adolph Toeppelwein, San Antonio's marvellous young rifle shot, lately performed another of his astonishing feats, reports the Philadelphia Record. With a .22-caliber rifle he stood at a distance of 20 feet from a double thickness of heavy paper, about three feet long by two feet wide, and shot on it the outlines of an Indian's head. It took exactly 152 shots to do the trick. It was free-hand drawing, as the figure was not traced on the paper beforehand. This made the feat especially difficult, as "Tap" had to place every shot with reference to where its predecessor had gone, and where all the following shots were to go. In other words, he had to have every detail of the "drawing" planned out and constantly in his mind's eye while he was shooting. One shot fired a fraction of an inch wide would have spoiled the whole picture.

It is not clear whether or no this marksman is a member of Roosevelt's regiment of rough riders. If he isn't he ought to be.

Bicycles on a Gravestone.

There is no record that the bicycle has hitherto figured in sculptured work on memorial stones in graveyards, and, according to a London newspaper, a young widow of Rio de Janeiro may be accounted a pioneer in using its presentment for that purpose. She was introduced to her late husband while out wheeling, and ordered a sculptor to depict the meeting, bicycles and all, on the marble gravestone in alto relievo. The effect is described as more novel than artistic, especially as the lady is chiselled as attired in rational costume. In the inscription, which is in Spanish, is a sentence which may be translated: "My dear soul had the tire of his life prematurely punctured."

Chimney Sweep in Italy.

Three Italian school-teachers recently applied for work as public chimney sweeps in a Swiss village just over the line. The places they sought paid only $160 a year, but that was more than they got in Italy as teachers of the rising generation. And people wonder that there are discontented murmurings and talk of revolution in the land of the Caesars!

GEN. ROSSER'S UNIFORM.

In a Flannel Shirt, Shoulder Straps and a String Around His Hat, He Rides a Mule.

Among the Virginians who have recently visited Washington there has been no more striking figure and none on whom more eyes were turned in admiring gaze than the stalwart form and unbrowned, swarthy countenance of Gen. Thomas L. Rosser, says the Richmond (Va.) Times. A newly appointed officer asked Rosser where he was going to have his uniforms made. "They will cost you a lot of money," said he. "I have had six suits made and they cost me $700."

"I will only need," responded Rosser, "a flannel shirt which I can buy here anywhere on the avenue; a pair of shoulder straps, and a string or piece of braid around my hat to designate that I am an officer."

"You will have to get a fine horse, general," continued the interlocutor. "Gen. Butler has had a $400 black stallion presented to him, and other generals have secured fine horses."

"Well," replied Rosser, "I have some good stock down on my farm; but from what I can learn a horse will not be the suitable thing in Cuba; I think a mule will be best, and it is my expectation to ride a mule."

It may be that this confederate veteran with his flannel shirt and string around his hat, bestriding a mule, will not be exactly in trim to court an amorous looking glass or caper nimbly in a lady's chamber to the lascivious pleading of a lute, but for a Black Douglas ready for the devil's own work in desperate encounter commend us to the "Prince of Albemarle."

KAISER'S SONS CONFIRMED.

An Impressive Occasion in the Family of Germany's Emperor.

At the kaiser's express wish the confirmation of his two eldest sons took place on a recent Sunday at the Friedenskirche, in Potsdam, the scene of the kaiser's own einsegnung, special trains conveying the imperial family and its guests (about 70 in number) from Berlin to Potsdam. The empress had, with her usual thoughtfulness, invited her son's master to be present at the confirmation, and the princes themselves had been allowed to bring seven cadets, the companions of their studies and games, with them for this event. The Friedenskirche, adjoining which Friedrich lies at rest, had been beautifully decorated with shrubs and flowers for the important service, which was a choral one. The young princes wore officers' uniforms of the First foot guards, with the orange ribbon of the order of the Black Eagle, and, as is the custom at the confirmation of the royal family, each read in a clear voice a confession of faith composed by himself. After this service a congratulatory reception was held at the stadtschloss in Potsdam, which was followed by a breakfast there. In accordance with another German custom, the princes were the recipients of numerous presents in honor of their confirmation, and several high decorations were conferred on the crown prince.

KEEPING STEP WITH THE MUSIC

It is a curious fact, says a veteran, that some men never learn to keep step perfectly. There are some men, old soldiers perhaps, who can't help falling into step when they hear martial music—the left foot down at the heavy tap of the drum. The very great majority of men can learn to keep step, but there are men who can't keep step, or, as likely as not, march with the right foot down at the heavy tap. Somehow their left foot never gets hooked on to that heavy tap as it should. Every old soldier will recollect such men—anybody can see such men at a military parade, and this not as a result of confusion due to two bands of music, one ahead and the other at the rear, but lack of the exact time keeping instinct.

The commanding officer of a company may be seen marching within clear sound of his own music, with his right foot down at the heavy tap, while the company will be all right. I have seen a commander of a grand army post marching in time with the music, but with his right foot down at the heavy tap, and, as likely as not, he was a man who served from one end of the war to the other.

The simple fact appears to be that there are some men, as I said, who never get their left foot fully and unfailingly hooked on to the heavy tap of the drum.

Preaching and Practicing.

The Boston Transcript tells a school story which enforces the lesson that preaching is of little use without practicing. In a school in Boston not far above the primary grade, the teacher was one day reading a story the subject of which was borrowing. She supplemented the reading with some remarks of her own, which she closed with this parting admonition: "Above all things, children, when you have occasion to borrow, never forget to return the borrowed article. Do not put the person who was kind enough to accommodate you to the trouble of sending for it." While she was still speaking, a knock was heard at the door. "Come in," said the teacher, as soon as she had finished her sentence. A pupil from another department entered, and stood waiting. "Well, what is it, please?" said the teacher. "Miss Blank says," the visitor called out, in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the room, "will you be kind enough to send back her blotting pad which you borrowed the other day!"

FOREIGN MUSICAL GOSSIP.

Goldmark's new opera, "Briseis," is in course of preparation at Vienna. Peter Benoit has resigned his position as director of the Conservatoire at Antwerp, in consequence of differences of judgment as to alterations in the government of the academy.

Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" maintains its extraordinary and well-deserved popularity in all parts of Europe. A few weeks ago Miss Marie Erba made her three hundredth appearance as Hansel in London.

A new square in Vienna, adjoining the Favoriten strasse, has been named "Brahms Platz," and a commemorative tablet has been placed on the house, Carlsgasse, No. 4, where the master resided for a period of 17 years.

M. Lassalle, the famous Paris barytone, appeared for the first time in the German capital last month, and gave a series of representations at the Royal Opera. His reception was a very flattering one, the part in which he was most admired being that of Mephisto in Gounod's "Faust."

M. Jean de Reszke has now decided to take part in the Wagner festival at Bayreuth next summer, and at the special request of Mme. Wagner will appear as Parsifal. The famous Polish tenor proposes to study the music of Parsifal during the autumn months, which he will spend on his estate in his native country.

The name of August Enna is not well known outside of one or two European countries. He is a Danish composer, and his new opera "Cleopatra" has had as many as 25 performances at Amsterdam during the season which has just come to a close, and of which it was the principal success.

NOTES FOR THE NATURALIST.

There are 40 varieties of the tobacco plant.

Some insects are in a state of maturity 30 minutes after birth.

The eggs of the silk worm are about the size of mustard seeds.

The goldfish is a great coward and a tiny fish with the courage to attack it can frighten it almost to death.

A grayhound has a greater speed running than a horse. A grayhound has been timed in running 123 yards in eight seconds.

The marigold is a little weather prophet. If the day is going to be fine the flower opens about three or four o'clock in the afternoon, but if wet weather is in store the marigold does not open at all.

The heron seldom flaps his wings at a rate of less than 120 to 150 times a minute. This is counting the downward strokes only, so that the bird's wings really make from 240 to 300 distinct movements a minute.

In one of the Canary islands there is a tree of the laurel family that occasionally rains down in the early evening quite a copious shower of water drops from its tufted foliage. The water comes out through innumerable little pores situated at the edge of the leaves.

Mr. George D. Clark, a prominent florist of Philadelphia, reports the successful use of carbolic acid solution in killing the mites that cause lily disease. One-fourth ounce of carbolic acid is put into a quart of water and thoroughly stirred. The treatment of the bulbs consists in merely immersing them in the solution for a few minutes and then drying before planting.

IRONICAL IFS.

If a man is ignorant he soon publishes the fact.

If a man itches for fame it usually keeps him scratching.

If your harvest is a failure, remember you selected the seed.

If it was a moccasin snake no wonder Eve put her foot in it.

If you want to please some men just tell them they look like actors.

If you would obtain information from a woman, pretend indifference.

If you have plenty of dust it is an easy matter to blind the public eye.

If a pugilist goes on the stage the audience has a poor show for its money.

If a man makes a fool of himself twice in the same way his case is hopeless.

If a word to the wise is sufficient, most wives must consider their husbands fools.

If a man would know how much he is appreciated he should pose as defendant in a breach of promise suit.—Chicago Daily News.

ARMY AND NAVY.

The American navy has practically all been built since 1883.

In modern naval conflicts opposing vessels seldom come within two miles of each other until the vanquished vessel strikes her colors.

In the regular army, about 25 per cent. are foreigners. In the navy, 52 per cent. of the petty officers, and 42 per cent. of the seamen are foreign born.

United States war vessels of the first-class are named after states, those of the second-class, after rivers, those of the third, after the principal cities and towns, and those of the fourth, as the president may direct.

The relative ranks of naval and military officers in the United States navy and army are as follows: A rear admiral corresponds in rank to a major general, a commodore to a brigadier general, a captain to a colonel, a commander to a lieutenant colonel, a lieutenant commander to a major, a lieutenant (junior grade) to a first lieutenant, an ensign, or midshipman, to a second lieutenant in the army.

John R. McLean's Great Newspaper.

Without a single exception, there is beyond doubt no greater or more popular newspaper in the United States than the Cincinnati Enquirer; or a more successful publisher than its proprietor, Mr. John R. McLean.

The old-time prices for the Daily Enquirer have been maintained, and its circulation largely increased each year; hard times and cheaper journals failing to arrest its onward march and high appreciation of the public for its true worth and merit.

The Weekly Enquirer at beginning of the campaign year was offered at 50 cents a year, and its circulation increased by the addition of over 200,000 new subscribers; the most substantial and coveted testimonial a publisher could desire.

When asked for the secret of such success, Mr. McLean frankly answers: The Enquirer has no opinions to force upon its patrons, it simply prints the facts and tells the truth that the reader may form his own opinions. By maintaining the price of the paper, more news and greater variety can be furnished, and every class of business interests catered to, which a cheaper journal cannot afford.

The very liberal support given the Enquirer by the public at large, makes it incumbent upon the management to serve it faithfully with zeal and enterprise in minor matters as well as those of greater magnitude.

GEORGE LAY, who was indicted at the February term of court for shooting Benton Privitt near South Fork, was arrested by Jailer T. J. Bell, of Casey, Wednesday, and brought to jail here.
GEORGE OWENS was tried on the charge of striking Green Gill, also colored, with brass knucks and acquitted, but Judge Carson fined him $10 for breach of the peace, which he is working out on the streets.

CLOSED.—Manager T. H. Wright, of Green Briar Springs, passed through to his home at Moreland Tuesday, having closed for the season his delightful little Summer resort. He tells us that he had a better season than he expected.

WHEN told that it took only about 30 minutes of actual work to nominate Davison at Danville Tuesday, an old gentleman of the Dix river section remarked: "It was a case of short horse soon carried and if the election were to come off today Gilbert would do him up in half that time."

UNRECORDED DEEDS.—It is strange how careless people are in the matter of deeds. Over 300 are in County Clerk G. B. Cooper's office now and in this issue he begins to print the list so that those who have been negligent may come to time. A deed is valueless against an innocent party, unless recorded.

SCHOOLS.—The public school, Prof. M. O. Winfrey, principal, and Miss Mamie Lynn, assistant, opened with 80 pupils and that number has been considerably augmented since. The Academy, Prof. W. J. Craig, principal, had only 16 at the opening Wednesday, but the number was increased yesterday and will continue to grow.

IN our advertising columns is notice of the sale of stock, crops, &c., of J. E. Carson, of the East End, who, after visiting a number of States, has decided to locate at Wabash, Ind., where he has bought the controlling interest in the White River Jersey Cattle Co., which owns 150 or more of the finest cows of that breed in the land. Mr. Carson's famous herd will not be disposed of at the sale, but will be taken with him to the Hoosier State.

CLOSE CALL.—Dr. J. T. Bohon, who was here yesterday, tells us that he and his aunt, Mrs. B. O. Reynolds, of Decatur, Ill., came near being run over at Moreland by a fast train on the C. S. His lines got crossed and pulled the horse the wrong way, but he succeeded in getting the vehicle off the track in the nick of time. In the excitement, he dropped his coat and vest, which were lying in his lap, and when he returned after going a mile or so, to get them, he found the garments, but his watch, match case and spectacle case had been taken from the pockets. He says, however, that the loss was not as great as might be imagined, as the watch was of the kind that sell at $1.50 a peck.

WATERMELONS.—R. C. Engleman shipped during August 674 watermelons none of which weighed less than 25 pounds, besides selling hundreds on the street here. Five of his big ones aggregated 228 pounds.

THE Garrard county jury in the case of William Wren, charged with being the leader of the recent raid made on the double gate on the Richmond & Lancaster pike, near the latter place, failed to make a verdict. Seven were for conviction and five for acquittal.

HAYS.—Mrs. Clara, wife of W. D. Hays, of the Waynesburg section, died Monday and was buried Tuesday morning in the old Double Springs burying ground, after services by Rev. Nathan Singleton. She was a splendid christian woman and an active member of the Waynesburg church. A husband and one child survive.

IT was reported here yesterday morning that Thomas Price, who is out on bond, charged with burning Fred Goode's blacksmith shop at Kidd's Store, fired a number of shots at that gentleman near that place Wednesday, but Mr. Goode came in later and told us it was a mistake. The report probably got started by Policeman Arthur Jones, of Hustonville, shooting several times at a Negro named Joe Robinson, who he was trying to arrest. Robinson, who is charged with horse stealing, outfooted the officer and is still at large. Mr. Goode tells us that Price is making his arrangements to go to Texas. We learn from other source than Mr. Goode that the senior Price has served two terms in the penitentiary.

CHURCH CHATTER.

Rev. S. M. Rankin will preach at the Presbyterian church at usual hours Sunday.

Paducah Catholics have commenced the erection of a church which will cost between $25,000 and $40,000.

Elder George A. Klingman will preach at Mrs. Martha Severance's residence Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Everybody cordially invited.

Eld. J. T. Brown, of Louisville, will preach at the Christian church at Hustonville Friday night, Sept. 9th, and at Turnersville Saturday night, 10th.

Rev. Geo. N. Eldridge, superintendent of the Christian Missionary Alliance, will preach at the Presbyterian church here next Monday evening at 7:30 and the next morning at 10 o'clock.

The Tate's Creek Baptist Association, after one of the most pleasant sessions in its history, adjourned Wednesday, to meet with the Mt. Tabor church, at Paint Lick, next year. About 75 delegates and many visitors were in attendance and all express themselves delighted with the meeting and the hospitality of the Stanford people. The exercises began with the annual sermon at 11 A. M. Tuesday by Rev. S. A. Owens, of Richmond, after which the organization was effected by the election of Rev. R. B. Mahony moderator and W. T. Pherigo clerk. The principal object of the associations is for missions and good reports were sent up from the churches as to collections, &c. Rev. H. L. McMurray preached the missionary sermon. The speeches on this subject were very fine, especially those of Drs. Crumpton and Warder. Dr. Eaton discussed the report on temperance, in which he takes great interest. It provides for inter-denominational employment of men to travel and make speeches in the interest of local option, money to be raised by the churches for their expenses. A collection for it was thereupon taken up and a good sum contributed.

Rev. Mahony made a most excellent presiding officer and was highly complimented for his impartial rulings. He was also honored by being chosen delegate to the next Southern convention. The music by the local choir, assisted by the good voices of the visitors, made the song service a most delightful feature of the meeting and praises were in everybody's mouth.

The dinners served on the grounds were real feast. Hundreds partook of them and hundreds more might have done so and the supply would not have been exhausted. The ladies all deserve mention, but it would take nearly the entire roll of membership to do so.

Among the many prominent delegates were Thomas Thorpe, Esq., the retiring clerk. He was county clerk of Madison for three terms and is now deputy in the office. He was also a Confederate soldier, which is further proof that he's a mighty good man. We are indebted to Clerk W. T.

Pherigo for favors and courtesies. His selection in the long line of distinguished men, who have filled the position, shows how highly he is held by the body. He is an uncle of ex-County Clerk J. F. Cummins and was his guest during his stay here.

Rev. W. H. Stewart, editor of the American Baptist, the organ of the colored Baptists of Kentucky, general superintendent of the Sunday schools of the State, &c., made a fine address extending cordial greetings from his association. Rev. T. M. Faulkner, editor of the Indiana Baptist Record, was also present.

The ladies tell us that 600 people ate with them the first and 750 the second day.

LANCASTER.

The Lancaster base ball team would like to secure a game with the Stanford team. Address Leslie Anderson.

The case against Wm. Wren, charged with toll-gate raiding, resulted in a hung jury, seven for conviction and five for acquittal. There is another case against Wren, charging him with shooting at the gate keeper, that will probably be tried this court.

By the traction engine rolling back, while passing through a gate, Harvey Norris, a young farmer, was caught between the separator and engine on Tuesday, and received injuries from which he died Wednesday. He was a son of Levi Norris, of the Mt. Hebron neighborhood, near which place the accident occurred.

W. O. Dunlap has secured a furlough and is with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Walter. Will was with the 6th U. S. Cavalry and participated in the battle of San Juan Heights during which engagement his regiment signally distinguished itself. Will was unhurt by Spanish bullets, but he has a well developed case of chills and swamp fever.

Our soldier boys who have come home on furloughs, as a general thing, are walking skeletons. They are bitter in their denunciation of the hospital service at Chickamauga, and say that the reports published in the daily papers are not at all exaggerated. They are unanimous in their praise of their company commanders, but say those officers are powerless to right the wrongs of the hospital officers and physicians.

Enterprising citizens have started a brick kiln. It is not a business speculation, but is for the benefit of the town. We have been compelled to haul our brick from adjoining towns, paying exorbitant prices for them. Hamlet Brown, our experienced brick-maker, will burn the kiln on the property of Rice Benge in the Baker addition. 200,000 will be burned in the first kiln.

J. N. Lake, of Terre Haute, Ind., has joined his wife at E. Brown's. Harry Beard, one of the leading insurance men of Lexington, is in town this week. W. J. Kinnaird, of Middlesboro, is with his parents here. W. A. Broadus left for Lakeland yesterday, where he has been appointed a guard at the asylum. Mrs. J. M. Logan and two sons are visiting Mrs. J. P. Sandifer at Covington. Wade Bush, of St. Louis, accompanied by his friend, Charles Moritz, are at Dr. W. N. Bush's. Mrs. M. D. Hughes is visiting in LaGrange. Will Wherritt, of New Orleans, and Harry Wherritt, of Cincinnati, have been with the family of W. H. Wherritt. Lieut. Claude Wherritt was up from Chickamauga this week and looks better than any soldier who has been at home. "Our Soldiers" John Farra, Charles Walker and Harry Robinson are all reported better at this writing.

The grand jury consumed eight days in their deliberations and returned 43 indictments, two for murder, one for gate raiding, one for perjury, two against turnpikes for failure to properly maintain their roads, and the others for minor offenses. Ed Clouse for the killing of David Whitehead had his case continued because of absent witnesses. He asked for bail which was granted in the sum of $1,500, but he has as yet been unable to give it. During the hearing of the application for bail an amusing incident occurred: Judge Sautley had retired from the bench and was down among the lawyers when Mrs. Whitehead, widow of the deceased, was called to testify. She wanted to show how she tried to "keep McCoy from hurting my old man," and by way of illustration arose and threw her arms around the Judge, and said: "I just hugged him close, this way Judge," folding his honor in a fond embrace. It was no mere feint, but a genuine old fashioned hug. The Judge made frantic efforts to release himself which he finally succeeded in doing, amid much confusion, and the laughter of the assembled bar.
